$\rightarrow$ Continuing efforts to increase efficiency and reduce costs

The global financial crisis has limited effect on $2 / 3$ of turnover

1. Spare parts and service

Sales by category

- Not affected in a negative way by the financial crisis

2. Standard equipment and smaller solutions to existing factories

- Limited effect of the financial crisis

3. Larger systems, often for new factories

- Significant drop in Q4
- Postponement rather than cancellations in most cases

- Demand is therefore building up

$\rightarrow$ Generates $€ 50-75$ million in addition to cash from operations

Outlook

- Expected results of core business in 2009
- 4-6\% decrease in revenues compared to the previous year
- Operations back to normal in Q3 or Q4 at 10-12\% EBIT level
- Positive developments
- Order intake in the last two months has improved significantly
- The price of stainless steel has decreased considerably
- Base interest rates are at a historical low and the price of corn and energy is going down which benefits our customers
- Favourable ISK cost will increase margins
$\rightarrow$ Long-term prospects of the industry remain strong
