

IXONOS SIGNS A MULTI-MILLION EURO CONTRACT EXPANSION WITH A CUSTOMER IN ASIA

Ixonos has announced today that it has been awarded a new multi-million Euro contract with an existing customer in Asia.

The original contract covered a multi-platform User Experience implementation for several device categories on a variety of operating systems. The new contract expands the partnership to new types of design and consulting services.

The new services will start immediately and will continue into 2014. The new contract also includes a frame agreement for possible purchase of additional services in the future.

Esa Harju, the CEO of Ixonos, comments: "We are excited that our collaboration with such a cutting-edge operator continues and expands. Ixonos' ability to combine creative design with strong solution delivery helps our customers to redefine mobile and online services in their markets."
